No. 2.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION.

Your Committee on Education have carefully and prayerfully considered the several matters referred to them for consideration. Methodism has an intense interest in the subject of popular general education, when it is remembered how large a number of youths, amounting to millions, are committed providentially to her care. The Church can not consent that the common schools shall pass into the hands or control of any sect, political party, or organization, either religious or irreligious, without a brave attempt to prevent it. The people's colleges must be managed and controlled by the people in the interests of the people, and for the culture of the children of the people. The same may be said of all State schools for higher education.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

We heartily commend the action of the last General Conference in making a new departure in regard to this organization, and broadening the scope of its operations. The work of this Board, as outlined by Dr. C. H. Payne, the Corresponding Secretary, places it in vital relation to every department of Christian activity, and is essential to the pepetuity and greatness of Methodism; therefore,

Resolved, 1. That we commend the Board of Education to the cordial sympathy and support of all our members.

2. That we will endeavor to observe "Children's-day" in all our charges, and give to its exercises a specially educational character.

3. That we will take a public collection on "Children's-day" for the objects of the Board, in accordance with the requirements of the discipline, and that we will use our influence to prevent this collection from being diverted to merely local objects.

GARRETT BIBLICAL INSTITUTE.

This School of the Prophets at Evanston, Ill., now over twenty years of age, is doing a good work in common with all the Schools of Theology of the Church, in thoroughly preparing young men for the ministry. We call the attention of young men to the advantages of this school, and recommend the appointment of R. D. Black and J. W. Duncan as visitors.

We would also commend the Boston School of Theology and the Drew Theological Seminary to the attention of the young men within their patronizing territory who are seeking a theological education.

DEPAUW UNIVERSITY.

Methodism in the State of Indiana has centered her highest educational interests in this noble University, now entered upon her second half century of existence. Some of the apparent legal difficulties that threatened the financial interests of the University during the early part of the year, have been fully met and dissipated, and the circle of the friends of the University much enlarged. Young men and women have flocked to the halls of the University by the hundreds, and still they come. These have come from the States ranging from Connecticut to Colorado, and are choice young men and women, earnestly seeking a higher education. The Year Book shows an attendance of 853 students in the various schools and departments of the University. From the indications of the present opening, which is at least seventy-five in advance of that of any former year, the enrollment for this year will amount to over 900. DePauw University has been greatly blessed in the past, and has proved a great blessing to the Church and State, and if we will be true to God and the cause of sanctified education, and continue to rally to the help and support of the University, she will prove an untold blessing to both Church and State.

At the late Commencement there were graduated in all departments 58 men men and women. These were distributed—1 in Theology, 11 in Law, 3 in Art, 3 in Music, 3 in the Normal, and 37 in the College of Liberal Arts.

All of the Schools of the University are organized with full corps of professors and instructors, and classes in the several years of the courses of study are now formed and at work. Each profe-sor is supreme in his own department. Each school is, in its internal arrangements, governed by its own faculty. A senate, composed of the President, Vice President and Deans of the several faculties, has cognizance of all matters common to all the schools. There is a monthly assembly of all the faculties, to whose jurisdiction is assigned all matters relating to degrees and a general advisory consideration of other matters. The Executive Committee elected by the Joint Board of Trustees and Visitors, is charged with the entire financial business and management of the University. This committee, whose chairman is Dr. J. P. D. John, holds regular semi-monthly sessions, and called sessions when necessary, when it passes upon all bills of expense, and jealously guards all the property of the University, and seeks scrupulously to carry out the orders of the Joint Board. Not a penny is paid out without the sanction of the Executive Committee. The money of the University, known as the Endowment Fund, is invested by a judicious investing committee at Indianapolis, on approved first mortgage security on real estate, and the Treasurer of the University, Col. J. W. Ray, is under a bond of $100,000, with approved security, while the funds of the University accruing from matriculation and other fees, passes through the hands of Geo. L. Curtiss, Treasurer of the faculty of the University, who is under an approved bond of $5,000. While the income of the University is limited, it is being made to do an immense amount of work in the way of giving the best kind of instruction in the class-room. From President Martin to the last elected tutor there are grand, conscientious men and women, well qualified for their several departments in the faculties of the University.

In the College of Liberal Arts there is a steady growth, the chief increase this year being in that school. The aim is to develop students of strong scholarship. In every case where the past year's graduating class has desired situations as teachers, the faculty were able to put them in good places. The DePauw graduates are sought for as teachers.

We recommend that the Bishops be requested to appoint Rev. J. P. D. John, D. D., Vice President and Professor of Mathematics in DePauw University.

In the School of Law there is a growing interest, and increasing numbers of young men are coming to prepare themselves to enter the field of jurisprudence. This is a Christian law school.

In the School of Theology the past year was one of unusual interest. There were enrolled 55 students. From the present indications the number this year will be increased to 65. For the first time the faculty are able to organize classes in all the years of the course of study. Already the students of Theology at DePauw are being sought by Presiding Elders for the pastorate. Of the present enrollment of students, as many as 12 are now working as supplies on circuits. They are showing themselves workmen indeed. God is blessing their labors.

All that was said in last year's report concerning the needs of the School of Theology we might reiterate this year, and add to that, that there ought to be erected as soon as funds can be obtained for that purpose a Theological Hall for boarding purposes, when in a club or commons those who desire can obtain board at the cheapest rates. The Church must aid in furnishing such a building.

We recommend that the Bishop be requested to appoint Rev. Geo. L. Curtiss, D. D, Professor of Historical Theology in the School of Theology of DePauw University. We recommend R. Roberts and E. L. Dolph as visitors to the School of Theology.

The Schools of Music and Art have been taken under the special care and oversight of the Brothers Newland and Chas. W. DePauw, who agree to make up all deficiencies in the current expenses of these schools. During the year they have fully met their pledge to the Trustees, while other members of the family are giving attention to other departments of the University. These schools are growing in attendance and favor. The Normal School is on a grade above ordinary Normal Schools of the country. It is seeking to do work in preparing teachers for the highest grade of instruction, according to the most philosophical methods. It aims at a unique ideal. While it has not fully reached its goal, it is nobly reaching out after it. It will, in process of time, with hard work and patient waiting, reach it.

The expenses of a student at DePauw University need not be great. The University gives a furnished room with heat and light for $1 per week, and board at $2.50 per week. The matriculation and incidental fee is $8.50 per term. A student may spend a school year in DePauw University for $150, exclusive of books and clothing. Some in the clubs make it much less, while others, if they wish, can make it much more.

One of the important things to be remembered is that DePauw University is a Methodist school, with all the peculiarities of Methodism and her Christianity. Her morning prayers and religious services, her Sunday morning class-meetings, her daily prayer meetings, her Sunday afternoon sermons and lectures, and her glorious revivals, where scores are converted and brought to a saving knowledge of sins forgiven, are not the least excellent things of DePauw University, every member of whose large faculty is a member of some Evangelical Church and a professor of religion, and ten of whom are ministers of the Gospel and members of annual Conferences.

The terms of service as Trustees of DePauw University of the following, expire, viz.: Hon. A. C. Downey, Chas. F. Goodwin and Rev. M. L. Wells. We recommend that Eli F. Ritter, of Indianapolis, Chas. F. Goodwin, of Brookville, and Rev. M. L. Wells be elected Trustees.

We recommend that the resignation of Geo. L. Curtiss, as Trustee, be accepted, and that Rev. J. S. Tevis be elected a Trustee for the unexpired term of one year.

We recommend that Rev. J. H. Doddridge, C. C. Edwards and A. N. Marlatt be appointed visitors to DePauw University.

We recommend the passage of the following resolutions:

Resolved 1, That we urge that the subscriptions made at the last Annual Conference on the pledge to raise $15,000 be settled by Jan. 1, 1889.

Resolved 2, That the matter of the remainder of the pledge made five years ago be placed in the hands of the following committee: J. P. D. John, Geo. L. Curtiss, A. N. Marlatt, E. L. Dolph and R. Roberts.

MOORE'S HILL COLLEGE.

The last collegiate year was one of great prosperity and encouragement. The attendance was quite large. This institution is doing a most excellent work.

We desire to commend it to the people throughout our Conference as a most excellent place to send their sons and daughters. Its healthful location and the very moral tone of society makes it especially desirable. The quiet, homelike surroundings and the general good deportment of the students need only be known to crowd the institution with students. Our Conference visitors report that the examinations of classes were very satisfactory.

The literary and commencement exercises reflected great credit upon the Faculty as well as the performers. The curriculum has been strengthened, so that a choice in the course of study may be made so as to fit young men and ladies for their chosen work.

A change has been made so as to allow the conferring of the degree of Master of Science upon Bachelors of Science upon the presentation of satisfactory evidence of fitness.

A course of lectures is maintained throughout the year that is proving very beneficial. The literary societies afford ample scope for the development of the mental powers.

The religious spirit and influence is quite marked. Meetings for the benefit of the students are maintained throughout the year. The professors are all earnest Christian workers. The most perfect harmony exists between the church and the college. The pastor is always ready to co-operate in every good work. A revival spirit characterizes all services. The conversion of students is the aim of all. It is not strange that from such influences a large number of ministers have gone out from here. They are found in all parts of our country. Many prominent men in the front rank of various callings were educated here. With such a record it behooves us to press every point vigorously until enlarged buildings and plans shall afford more complete facilities for prosecuting the work. To this end let every pastor labor to secure donations and bequests as well as students.

The music department is being thoroughly organized, and is already attracting the musically inclined.

We desire to call special attention to the fact that a student can secure board in good families at the small cost of $2.50 to $3.00 per week. Also that arrangements can be made at lower rates.

To aid the college in prosecuting this good work, we recommend that the sum of $1,000 be apportioned by the Presiding Elders to the several charges of their districts, according to ability, for collection for this college, and that the preachers see to it that it be faithfully presented, and that this be taken as the regular Disciplinary Educational Collection.

We recommend the appointment by the Bishop of Rev. G. P. Jenkins, D. D., to the Presidency, and that of Rev. Monroe Vayhinger, A. M., to a professorship in the college. We recommend as Trustees for three years Benj. F. Draper, Geo. W. Wood, J. H. Martin, D. D., Rev. A. N. Marlatt, Rev. Joseph Cotton, Rev. J. A. Sargent, D. D., and David G. Phillips.

And C. P. Miller, having resigned, we recommend that Rev. R. D. Black, A. M., be appointed to fill out his unexpired term.

We recommend as Conference Visitors, Rev. E. H. Wood, and the pastors at Columbus, Seymour, Aurora, Madison, Rising Sun and Dillsboro.

Chairman.

Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON YOUNG PEOPLE.

The young people of Methodism comprise such a large and growing constituency of the church, and are so richly endowed with possibilities for personal and religious achievements, as well as environed by so many imminent social and moral perils as to require special recognition and attention. Hence, it is incumbent upon the church and the guardians of truth, such as ministers, teachers, parents and others to provide for a better development of their social, intellectual and spiritual life, and for their more thorough enlistment in the services and activities of the church. In order to facilitate these vital aims, we would earnestly recommend:

First. The organization of young people's societies in all our churches, and would commend "The Young People's Methodist Alliance" as most admirably adapted, both by its Methodistic spirit and the simplicity of its plan, to promote the highest spiritual and intellectual welfare of all young people who are under the auspices of our church. We would urge as early as practicable the formation throughout our Conference, of Local, District and Conference Alliances.

Second. The general introduction among our young people of the Oxford League Course of Reading, prepared and arranged by Bishop J. H. Vincent, as especially promotive of a broad, earnest, intelligent Methodism, accompanied by short lectures on general church and denominational history. Combining these with entertaining expositures of our doctrines, and careful enforcements of the ethical and practical demands of a true christian life as distinguished from a sentimental, compromised and worldly life. We would, in this connection, call attention to the plans of the "Willing Workers' League," originated by Rev. Warren W. Reynolds, of this Conference, comprising a most felicitous and practical blending of the Oxford League Course of Reading with the Young People's Methodist Alliance order of work. The published Constitution and By-laws of the "Willing Workers League" will prove suggestive and helpful in the organization of young people's societies.

Third. The wide circulation among young people of "Our Youth," a periodical especially designed for young people and their teachers, and most helpful in the cultivation of denominational life and activity as well as intellectual culture; also, "The Methodist Young People," the official organ of the "Young People's Methodist Alliance," furnishing wholesome current reading, full of fact, food and fire for the Christian life would be an invaluable accessory in all well directed work among the young people. Moreover, we commend and urge every pastor, teacher, parent and friend of young people, especially young men, to procure and carefully read a small pamphlet of 56 pages entitled "Dying at the Top," by the Rev. Joseph Waddell Clokey, D. D., of New Albany, Ind., which is a comprehensible, terrific and thrilling picture of the moral status and perils of the young men of our country.

Fourth. The holding of special weekly meetings in all our charges for devotion and the immediate spiritual help of our young people; also, that each pastor make an enrollment of the youth of the church and congregation in the Sabbath-school between the ages of twelve and twenty-five years of age, marking those who are members of the Church and those who are merely attendants, and that, as far as practicable, all our young people have placed over them godly, judicious persons who shall encourage them to attend the services of the Church, such as prayer meetings, class meetings and young people's meetings, and otherwise stimulate them in the prosecution of a Christian life.

Fifth. The publication in our annual minutes, in a conspicuous place, a notice of the pamphlet and periodical herein recommended indicating where they can be obtained, and the prices of the same. Also, giving the official address of the Oxford League, its course of reading, and of the President and Corresponding Secretary of the Young People's Methodist Alliance.

Sixth. The appointment of E. B. Rawls as Superintendent of the work among young people in the Southeastern Indiana Conference, authorizing him to issue blanks and obtain information on the following items: The number of young people's societies organized, the number of periodicals for young people taken, the extent to which the Oxford League Reading Course has been introduced, the number of young people who are members of the Church over twelve years of age, and report upon the condition and growth of the work among young people during the ensuing Conference year at the next session of the conferences.

AUDITING COMMITTEE.

LIBERTY, IND., Sept. 29, 1888.

We, the committee appointed to audit the accounts of the Conference Treasurers and Secretary, would report:

We have examined said accounts and find them, in our judgment, correct.

We find that several notes in the hands of our Conference Treasurer are made payable to Joseph Tarkington, personally. We, therefore, recommend that the present Treasurer be instructed to have said Tarkington sign said notes over to the Conference, and that blank notes in proper form be procured and kept on hands for use in making loans in the future.

CONFERENCE EDUCATION SOCIETY.

At a meeting of the officers and managers of the Conference Education Society, the Treasurer reported that this society has aided twenty-two young men in their education, and that the funds of the Society were now entirely employed in similar work. It was also reported by the Treasurer that a number of the notes given were over due, and on motion the Treasurer was instructed to notify all whose notes are over due, that the Seciety needs the money, and that partial or full payment must be made at once.

Joseph Cotton, who has served the Society as Treasurer for many years, offers his resignation, and it is recommended that Robert Roberts, Conference Treasurer, be elected Treasurer of this Society.

OBSERVANCE OF THE SABBATH.

We believe that the command of God—"Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy"—should be scripturally presented to our people and prayerfully observed by them.

We believe that all manner of pleasure seeking—we believe that all Sabbath visiting—we believe that all business transactions are contrary to the teaching of the word of God.

We pledge ourselves as ministers of Jesus Chirst, both by our pulpit utterance and association with our people as pastors, to make the day one of prayer and worship and heavenly joys.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TEMPERANCE.

Because we believe intemperance to be one of the most deadly of all evils. Corrupting all within its reach, and because we recognize the demands upon us to use every available means to counteract its influence and destroy its power.

Therefore, while our aim at all times is legal prohibition of all intoxicating drinks, we will join our efforts with all who are laboring to secure the passage of a Local Option Law, as the General Conference has recommended, and when secured, we will use our influence and every legitimate means to have it adopted and enforced in all the townships and counties in which we are sent to labor.

We pledge ourselves to join with those whose aim is to secure the very best legislation on the question until the desired end be obtained, viz.: Legal Prohibition in our State and throughout the whole land.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL.

WHEREAS, We believe that the interest of the Sunday School Union have not received the attention from pastors and people which it deserves, we submit the following:

1. The use of our own literature be insisted upon by Pastors and Superintendents.

2. That on Good Tidings Day the collection for tracts and Sunday Schools be presented to our congregations, and a whole service be devoted to these interest.

3. That since, under our present system of representation in conferences and district institutes, the individual school gets no representation by either delegates or report in the minutes;

Resolved, That each Presiding Elder's District be subdivided into districts, and that suitable chairmen be appointed, and meetings held semi-annually, wherein each school shall be represented by delegates, and reported in a book of minutes for that purpose.

CHURCH EXTENSION.

As the Church Extension Society is one of the great connectional institutions of our church, and, by the efficiency and good management of its officers, has made so grand a record in the few years only since its organization, and as its effectiveness and force are still increasing, as shown by the fact that it is building, on an average, more than two churches a day, and putting these churches, too, in localities where they could not otherwise go, and yet where they are generally most needed, and thereby saving Methodism to many a community where, without the timely aid of this great helping hand, it would have been lost; therefore, be it

Resolved, 1. That this society deserves the indorsement and support of every congregation in Methodism.

2. That we will do all in our power to furnish every possible help.

3. That we will do our best to raise the full amount of our assessment by taking a collection for the carrying forward of the work of church extension.

TRACTS.

Experience proves that great results grow out of the judicious use of religious tracts. As a medium for conveying pointed information, in printed form, to the masses, nothing surpasses the tract. They will be read by busy people at odd moments, when large books would be put aside. In many homes reading matter is scarce, and tracts are read and re-read. They are the productions of the best minds, in an inexpensive form, on all subjects. Nos. 137, 21, 85, and others, relating to temperance, baptism, Mormonism and Romanism, should be in every home.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TOBACCO.

Six hundred million dollars are annully spent in the United States for tobacco. This means money diverted from good causes and wasted. It means a vast amount of filthiness, involving unnecessary labor on the part of women in the homes, of janitors in public halls, of sextons in churches. It means sights and odors that, to those who do not use the weed, are very nauseating or disgusting.

It means injury to the health of the physical and mental organism of the tobacco user, and to his posterity.

It means, in very many cases, an entering wedge for the vice of intemperance; therefore,

Resolved, That we will, as heretofore, by example and precept, discourage its use among our people; also,

Resolved, That the determination of the General Conference of 1880 with regard to the use of tobacco on the part of young men entering the Methodist ministry shall still be the rule of action of the South-East Indiana Conference.

FREEDMEN'S AID AND SOUTHERN EDUCATION SOCIETY.

The wide-spread illiteracy among the colored and white races in the South is a matter of profound concern to the church and nation While the Church is not indifferent in regard to the alarming condition of our "brother in black," and also our "brother in white" throughout the South, she is not thoroughly aroused as to the real status of these people. We earnestly desire in this report to reaffirm our conviction in regard to the claims which this work has upon the Methodist Episcopal Church, and as a Conference we pledge to it our sacred allegiance.

In the twenty-one years now past, this society has expended in the work of Christian education two million, ninety-four thousand, ninety-nine dollars and forty-six cents.

The present value of our property in the South is fully one million dollars. This includes lands, schools, libraries, etc.

More than one hundred thousand students have been in these schools, and these have touched others as ministers and teachers, so that at least one million of the youth and adult population of the South have been influenced by these schools. Twenty-two institutions, with one hundred and twenty-four teachers, have been hard at work during the past year among the colored people, and fifteen institutions, with eighty teachers, among the whites; all of these aided by this society.

The Common School of Theology at Atlanta has an attendance of fifty young men, who are taking a regular course in Theology, while there are three hundred who are studying for the ministry in other institutions in the South.

There are also "Industrial" Schools, Schools of "Medicine," Dentistry, etc., which deserve worthy recognition.

We earnestly commend this great work of the Church to our pastors and people for their hearty coöperation and support.

MEMOIRS.

FERNANDO CORTES HOLLIDAY.

Was born in Essex County, New York, November 30, 1814. He was converted when a lad of fourteen, and licensed to preach August 26, 1833, in his nineteenth year. He was admitted to the Indiana Annual Conference at its session in Centerville, October 22, 1834, and sent to Wayne circuit, and the two following years to Connersville circuit. 1837 and 1838 Rising Sun Station, '39 Madison, '40 and '41 Jeffersonville, '42 and '43 Greensburg, '44 Evansville, '45 and '46 New Albany, '47 and '48 Indianapolis.

In 1849 Bishop Janes transferred him to the Missouri Annual Conference and stationed him at Ebenezer, St. Louis. He returned the next year to the Indiana Conference and was stationed at St. John's, Madison; in '51 Lawrenceburg.

In 1852 he was placed on the Lawrenceburg district. In '56 Connersville district, remaining one year, and then three years on the Indianapolis district, followed by four years on the Connersville district. After this he labored for two years at the Asbury Chapel, Indianapolis. Then two years on the Lawrenceburg district. In 1868 he was stationed at Roberts' Chapel, where he remained for three years, and after a most gracious and extensive revival, led this enterprising church in the erection of the first story of their magnificent edifice. After one year on the Greensburg district he was four years on the Indianapolis district. Then four years on the Connersville district. In '80 and '81 he served the Connersville Station, then for three years the church at Madison, where his faithful wife died. Mrs. Holliday was in failing health. She overtaxed herself nursing her husband who was greatly injured by being thrown from his buggy and having his arm broken near the shoulder. Dr. Holliday never recovered fully from the shock he received at this time. His last work was at Rushville, where, with his usual sagacity and skill, he planned for and pushed into successful operation their beautiful and commodious church edifice. Before the church was completed he regretfully resigned it to other hands and removed to Indianapolis.

Dr. Holliday was three years on circuits and twenty-three years on districts and twenty-six in stations. He was elected to four general Conferences—those of '56, '60, '68 and '76. He was a member of the Book Committee from '56 to '60 and from '76 to '80. He served for four years, dating from 1860, on the General Missionary Committee. As a member of the Centennial Committee he aided in making the programme for the Centennial of American Methodism. He was made a member of the Board of Trustees for the Methodist Episcopal Church. Also the Board of Managers of the Freedmen's Aid Society, and was an active member of the United States Christian Commission.

He was an honored trustee of DePauw University for 38 years, and was the acting president of the board of trustees when the final and legal arrangements were made with Mr. DePauw which will make it possible to place this institution among the first in the West. He received the degree of A. M. from McKendree College, Illinois, in 1850, and the degree of D. D. from Allegheny College, Pennsylvania, in 1860. Dr. Holliday was a fluent writer; besides numerous articles in the church periodicals, he is the author of "Anniversary Book for Sunday-Schools," "Life and Times of Rev. Allen Wiley," "Bible Hand Book," and "History of Indiana Methodism." His interest in this last-mentioned work the Doctor generously donated to Moore's Hill College.

Dr. Holliday was a well informed man; he kept fully abreast of the age. He knew the tendencies of measures both in the church and in society. In debate he was calm, practical and ready; he was quick to anticipate new movements and lead to wise conclusion. When in charge, no work suffered in his hands; he attended to all the details, was faithful as a pastor and industrious and successful as a worker in every department. He aimed at success and knew how to reach it. Adroit and wise, he knew how to manage men. He always made himself felt in every gathering; he knew when to speak and what to say; he could gather conflicting views of his brethren and propose a happy solution. He was easily first among his brethren in generalship and achievement of measures.

His style of preaching was clear, practical, forcible. He was equally at home in the log meeting-house and in the magnificent edifice. His countenance, like his heart, was restful and joyous; he carried sunshine and never gloom into his work.

He grew old gracefully, retaining his sprightliness and vigor with remarkable tenacity. For over fifty years he labored for the Master and never suffered his heart's best affections to wander into any other service. He was a man of one work. Bishop Ames once said, "There are two men in the Conference who never turned aside to any speculation—Enoch G. Wood and F. C. Holliday." He loved his brethren of the ministry, and sent word to them, saying, "Tell my brethren I love them, and I have tried to be faithful and to do my duty."

The Sabbath before Dr. Holliday died, after listening to the reading of a number of old hyms from Dr. Mattison's collection, with eyes suffused in tears and voice tremulous with emotion he said to John W. Ray, "I am thankful I have not preached an unknown gospel." Several other hymns were read, and with increased emotion he said, "I am thankful I have been true to my ministerial vows. I have been a man of one work."

A week before his death his son Cortes was dying in another part of the house. The father was greatly concerned for him that he might have a clear evidence of his acceptance and a bright and happy death. His lips were seen to be moving in prayer. At last the news came that his son was triumphantly happy. This was the crowning of his joy. The whole family was rejoiced, and in the midst of the sorrow experienced true comfort. When nearing the time of his departure he sent for a few of his friends. Just as Thomas G. Alford stepped inside the room, Dr. Holliday hailed him, saying, "Shouting from the battlements of heaven." These were perhaps his last words. On the 18th day of March, 1888, F. C. Holliday entered the unseen glory.

CHARLES TINSLEY.

FRANCIS SIMEON POTTS.

Came into this world on the 23d day of January, 1825, in the County of Harrison, State of Indiana. He was of German descent, was a quiet, good boy, and his youth was marked by gravity of deportment and a serious thoughtfulness that was beyond his years. When in his fifteenth or sixteenth year, in the autumn of 1840 or 1841, on a beautiful Sabbath afternoon, he was in attendance on a meeting for prayer held in an unfinished log house, four miles from New Albany. The meeting was conducted by a young man who is now among the Seniors of this Conference, but who then was in the burning ardor and zeal of his new born Christly love. He had walked from New Albany to hold that Sabbath afternoon service, and as he looked out timidly and anxiously upon that little audience, his eye rested on the serious-faced boy, and in a moment he was at his side and his voice was in his ear. "Frank, would you not like to be a Christian?" "Yes sir." "Would you like us to pray for you?" "Yes sir." "Will you go forward and kneel with us?" "Yes sir." He acted immediately on the suggestion. A season of earnest prayer followed, during which a new light had shone upon, and a still small voice had spoken in the boy's heart; and now again the young leader's voice is in his ear. "Frank, do you think you are converted?" "Yes sir." "Would you like to unite with the church?" "Yes sir." His name was taken and given to Rev. Wm. V. Daniel, the pastor, and entered upon the record as connected with the country class. Thus did he come into the church, his name having been written by an invisible hand in the Book of Life before a human hand had inscribed it on a church record below. His religious progress was steady and rapid. The new life within was not a fitful impulse—not an effervescence that would die into insipidity with the subsidence of a spasmodic excitement. It was a divinely fed flame that grew as it burned.

His studious habits, his religious development and his grave, unobtrusive and gentlemanly bearing in social life, ere long began to attract attention and to commend him to the interested esteem and confidence of his brethren in the church. And so soon as he had reached the point of sufficient age and experience to justify the action, the estimate of his brethren took shape in the following authorization:

"Francis Potts is hereby authorized to officiate as an exhorter in the Methodist Episcopal Church. New Albany, September 5, 1846. F. C. HOLLIDAY, Pastor."

It is to be presumed that this authority was faithfully used, and that its use was acceptable to the Church, for in a short time thereafter he was licensed to preach, and October 7, 1848 was admitted to the Indiana Conference, receiving as his first appointment East Connersville. From this point his itinerant ministry reached forward into the fortieth year, including twenty-six appointments and twenty different charges, he having in several instances been returned to charges previously occupied by him. The names and order of his appointments were as follows: East Connersville, Milton, White Creek, Fulton, North Madison, Hanover, Moore's Hill, Fulton again, Franklin, Wooster, Bellview, Acton, Southport, Franklin again, Vienna, Seymour, Vevay, Charlestown, Utica, Edinburg, Pattison and Edwin Ray, Indianapolis, Southport again, Greenwood, Liberty, Milton again, and Milroy.

He was ordained deacon at the session of the Indiana Conference at Jeffersonville, October 13, 1850. That Conference then embraced the southern half of the State, but the General Conference, meeting in Boston in May of 1852, first took two of our men and made them Bishops—Mathew Simpson and Edward R. Ames—and then divided our territory, making two Conferences, the Indiana Conference and the Southeastern Indiana Conference. The first session of the latter was held at Rushville in October of 1852, Osman C. Baker, one of the newly-elected bishops, presiding. On the afternoon of a beautiful Sabbath, the 10th day of the month, the subject of this sketch was ordained elder under the hands of Bishop Baker, after a sermon by Bishop Thomas A. Morris. Bishop Morris had officiated at his previous ordination. The writer's personal knowledge of Brother Potts dates back to that October Conference of 1852. Often our lines of life had run close together. More and more through the on-going years our relations had become intimate and confidential, making it possible to open and read the inner pages, and the unpaged thoughts and sentiments that lay concealed between the leaves. And the closer the knowledge, the profounder the esteem. The more crucial the test, the firmer the confidence. His was a character that would bear the closest scrutiny; that would endure the keenest analysis; that from the severest trial would come forth with a clearer lustre. A conspicuous characteristic was his transparent truthfulness. He would suffer any sacrifice rather than violate its sacredness. His lack of self-assertiveness was, perhaps, a fault, and yet it proceeded from a virtue. It was not resultant from any lack of courage, for he had both physical and moral courage of a high grade. He did not hesitate to declare boldly his honest convictions of right and wrong, and I knew him to publicly rebuke, strongly, but kindly, a desperate and dangerous man for terrible profanity, and the reproof, instead of angering the desperado, excited his admiration, and permanently won his confidence and esteem. This lack of self-assertiveness sprang rather from unselfishness—a disposition to prefer others rather than himself.

And that beautiful spirit (alas! too rare) permeated his whole life, controlling all his thoughts and inspiring all his sentiments. So true is this, that no estimate of his character could be accurate that did not proceed from this motive point of forgetfulness of self and thoughtfulness for others. He was polite without affectation, modest without diffidence, frank without bluntness, pious without pretence—true to his friends and forgiving toward any who would do him wrong. He despised a meanness, but could forgive it if he himself were the victim.

Twice he was married. First to Miss Emily Fish, of Franklin, Ind., Nov. 16, 1859. The loss, by death, of this dear wife, at Southport, July 8, 1864, was a terrible blow from which he was long in recovering. He was married to Mattie, the sister of his first wife, at Indianapolis, March 22, 1866. The wife and five children survive—four sons and one daughter, two sons of the first and two sons and a daughter of the second marriage. Naturally domestic in all his feelings and sympathies, he made himself the familiar friend of his own children, and yet nowhere was a higher respect felt for and shown toward him than about his own hearthstone. But here love and respect met and blended into beautiful oneness. Nearly three years ago he was thrown from his buggy, between Liberty and Brownsville, and received injuries that came near proving fatal. But only recently had he fully recovered from the effects of those injuries. Again, on the 12th of May, 1888, a like accident occurred. A frightened horse dashing forward and suddenly whirling, the buggy is overturned and he is thrown violently to the ground. At first there seemed to be some faint hope that his hurts were not fatal; but on Sabbath morning, the day after the accident, he grew rapidly worse and became unconscious, continuing to sink until 23 minutes before 12, Monday, May 14, 1888, when he quietly passed away. Better even than the rhapsody of a triumphant death-bed testimony is the testimony of a true, pure, habitually consistent Christian life. "Let us follow him as he followed Christ." JOHN G. CHAFEE.

SISTER MARY JANE SMITH,

Widow of the late Rev. Giles C. Smith, of the Southeast Indiana Conference, died in Brownstown, Ind., March 3, 1888, aged seventy-nine years and nearly four months. She was the daughter of Henry and Sarah Dunham, and was born in Woodbridge, Middlesex County, N. J. Her parents removed to the wilds of Indiana in 1819, and settled in Richmond, then a small village. Her parents were exemplary Christians, and members of the M. E. Church. Their ancestors were Friends, or Quakers. She was converted when sixteen years of age, and united with the M. E. Church and remained an acceptable member until death. She became greatly attached to the doctrines and usages of the Church of her choice, and during the sixty-three years of her Church life enjoyed communion with God and the fellowship of her brethren and sisters in Christ Jesus. She was united in marriage to Rev. Giles C. Smith, April 10, 1832, by Rev. Joseph Tarkington, in Richmond. As a Methodist Preacher's wife, she went with her husband to the various charges to which he was assigned, as a co-laborer, until his death, eighteen years ago. In the early part of her itinerant life she was under the necessity of enduring some severe trials of faith and patience, but she had no words of complaint. The burdens were borne for the Master's glory. For sometime before her death she had been growing feeble, so that the last year or two of her life she was deprived the privilege of "going up to the house of the Lord." But as long as she could she found her way to the house of worship. About three weeks before the end came she was partially paralyzed. At first the suffering was severe, but as the disease progressed, and a second shock occurred the conscious pain was mercifully lessened, and when death came it was without a struggle. So calm and peaceful was the final moment that loving friends could not tell just when the soul returned to God. She came "to the grave like as a shock of corn cometh in his season," ripe in years and in Christian graces.

Sister Smith leaves two children, Dr. Hamlin Smith, of Brownstown, and Mrs. Dr. Curtiss of Greencastle, Ind. She had buried two sons and one daughter, planted in different places, like many itinerant preachers' children are. She leaves a large circle of friends who knew and esteemed her. But the majority of the friends of her youth have passed over to the other shore, and she has joined them there.

MRS. FRANKIE WEAVER COHAGEN.

Mrs. Frankie Weaver Cohagen was born in Muskingum County, Ohio, April 5, 1863, was baptized in infancy by Rev. John Rugan, and received into the Evangelical Lutheran Church at the age of sixteen years.

She united in marriage with Rev. Geo. W. Cohagen, of the Southeast Indiana Conference, March 9, 1886, and transferred her membership to the M. E. Church, July 4 of the same year. The following year she accompanied her husband to his new appointment, Moorefield Circuit. She calmly passed away March 22, 1888.

Her life was such as any one who knew her might do well to imitate. Everything with her was kindness of heart, purity of mind and thought, and love to her church and people.

From her earliest knowledge of right and wrong, down to the close of life, "None knew her but to love her, nor named her but to praise," and those who knew her best loved her most.

The last year of her life was a series of suffering and affliction, which she bore with matchless courage, without murmur or complaint.

She greeted all who called at her bedside with smiles and cheerfulness. Her anticipations are now fully realized, and her spirit is rewarded with a priceless legacy and eternity of joy above.

"She is safe on the shore,
Her warfare is ended,
And her sorrows are o'er."

REV. BENJAMIN PLUMMER.

Rev. Benjamin Plummer was born in Cumberland County, Maine, June 20, 1813, and died near Manchester, Indiana, Nov. 25, 1887.

In 1833 he married Miss Hannah Heustis, his now bereaved widow. In 1838 he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and continued a faithful member until his death.

He was licensed to exhort Aug. 13, 1854, and Feb. 10, 1855, was licensed to preach. He was ordained an elder by Bishop Simpson at Shelbyville. For about ten years he engaged in the itinerant work as supply. As a pastor he could hardly be excelled, and his sermons, though plain and practical, were above the average.

In the family circle he was a welcome guest. Every one loved "Uncle Ben," as he was familiarly called. During his ministry he conducted and assisted in no less than 543 funeral services, and solemnized 306 marriages. He did not engage in circuit work after 1870, but did not cease to labor for the Lord, until he ceased to live. His last illness was of only two weeks duration, yet in the midst of these afflictions he possessed an unwavering trust in God. A good man has gone to his reward.

REV. THOMAS HARGITT.

Rev. Thomas Hargitt, the subject of this sketch, was born at Bagby, Yorkshire, England, April 20, 1798.

When twenty-two years old he immigrated to America, reaching New York in June, 1820, after a voyage of seven weeks, and soon located at Hardentown, near Lawrenceburg, Ind. Deceased was an active member of the M. E. Church, and in 1826 was licensed to exhort. In 1830 he was licensed as a local preacher. In 1836 he was ordained a deacon by Bishop Soule, and in 1840 was ordained an elder by Bishop Morris.

As a minister he was earnest and efficient, the possessor of an eloquence which, if somewhat untutored, was strong and fervid. He was a zealous temperance advocate, teaching by precept and example.

As a citizen he took an active interest in all public affairs, contributing liberally to enterprises of public utility, and always warmly loyal to his adopted country.

So firmly did he adhere to the spirit and letter of the law that he would sacrifice his personal convictions of right rather than favor an infraction of either.

The measure of his days was filled up in usefulness, and at a ripe old age, at his home in Bright, Ind., on the 17th of November, 1886, as comes the twilight at the close of day, he passed calmly and peacefully to the eternal land.

REPORT ON BIBLE SOCIETY.

The Bible is the transcript of the divine mind, the revelation of the divine will concerning human character and duty. Its leaves are for the healing of the nations; its light for the illumination of the dark places of the earth. We believe in the use of the Word in the public schools, in the family, and by the individual. We commend the American Bible Society for the magnificent work it has done and is doing to place the Word of God in the hands of every person. We recognize the obligation upon us to present the claims of this cause, and to take collections annually for its support.

ARMY CHAPLAINS.

Believing it of very great importance, that the men who stand for the defence of the country as soldiers of the Republic, should be as far as possible protected against vice, and cultivated in virtue; and regarding a pure gospel, taught and preached by pure and competent men, appointed and set apart to that particular work, as the most potent and effective agency in antagonizing moral evil, and promoting moral virtue and learning, that there has heretofore been, and that there now is inadequate government provision for chaplaincies in the army of the Nation, there being only thirty-four chaplains to one hundred and thirty-five posts and stations:

Resolved, That we respectfully and earnestly request "the powers that be" by suitable legislation, and execution of laws, to so adequately provide as that each army post may have an efficient chaplain paid by the government.

WOMANS' HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Your Committee on the Woman's Home Missionary Society desire to call attention of the Conference to the importance of this department of our church work carried on by our devoted women. We regret to learn that there are but eight societies within our Conference: Three in Indianapolis District, two in Moore's Hill District and three in Connersville District, and none in the Jeffersonville District. The total amounts contributed to this Society within our Conference during the last year, ending September, 1887, amounts only to $267.61, which is far below what this commendable Society needs for its work.

We earnestly recommend to our pastors that in every pastoral charge a society be organized the ensuing Conference year.

There has been a marked improvement in the interest taken in these societies during the year ending September, 1888. There has been collected during the past year in these societies, $803.73, an increase over last year of $536.12. This increase in the collection is commendable, but the different charges ought to be able to double it in this coming Conference year, and we trust they may.
